

Shipping and Delivery Policy

Sample/Demo Policy Notice

This shipping and delivery policy is synthetic content created for retrieval testing and customer support demonstrations.

Standard Delivery Timeline

Standard delivery typically takes 5-7 business days after the order has shipped. Delivery estimates may vary during holidays, severe weather, or carrier service interruptions.

Delayed Delivery

If an order is more than 7 business days late, support should check the tracking status and review the most recent carrier scan. Customers should be informed of the current status and expected next action.

Lost Package

A package is considered lost if there has been no tracking update for 10 business days. Support should verify that the shipping address is correct and confirm whether the carrier has opened an investigation.

Damaged Shipment

Customers reporting damaged shipments should provide photos of the outer packaging, shipping label, and damaged item. Photos help support determine whether the damage occurred during transit.

Resolution Options

Depending on the order status and carrier findings, support may offer a replacement shipment, begin a refund review, or open a carrier investigation.

Support Process

Support should verify the order status, tracking number, delivery address, and delay duration before deciding on a resolution. Notes should include the latest carrier scan and any evidence provided by the customer.

Support Executive Next Step

Confirm the tracking status and decide whether to escalate to the carrier, send a replacement, or review refund eligibility based on the delay or damage evidence.
